

GRID (Grounded, Replicated, Indexed Data):
Distributed reps within each slot can encode large number of different items. Each slot can encode approx same total vocabulary of items. Only one item per slot can be cleanly represented at any one time. Index / role is explicitly coded by virtue of which slot is representing item. Index 1 is primary: contains most elaborated, full rep -- subsequent ones are more impoverished.

Index 1

Index 2

Index 3